OVERVIEW

As a result of the capsized healthcare picture in recent years, our industry is immersed in a cloud of the unknown... leaving an expectation of significant change in years to come. The planning and design professionals of PBK seek to understand the dynamic challenges that will be associated with the ongoing changes in order to respond with environmental solutions that yield the best possible results for our healthcare clientele.

APPROACH

Value

Projects consistently fall within competitive ranges of construction costs for their respective scope, size and region.

High Performance

Evidence-based design that proves the built environment can positively effect patient and staff performance and satisfaction.

Timeless

Thoughtful solutions that complement the surrounding community while maintaining aesthetic value for decades.

Sustainable

Environmentally-conscientious design solutions achieved in the most fiscally-responsible manner.

WHAT WE DO

PBK facilitates a collaborative, team-driven approach to deliver customized, purpose-specific planning and design solutions that seek to optimize end-user performance and maintain strict control over budget and schedule parameters.

High performance design principles can be incorporated into every project. The PBK High Performance Studio specializes in identifying no-cost and/or low-cost design applications that are practical and yield a positive impact on end-user performance.

Market Leadership

Members of PBK's healthcare team serve in leadership roles and remain actively involved with industry-leading associations and organizations. Our teammates have been published in industry trade journals and frequently deliver "hot topic" presentations to address many of the issues facing healthcare operations today.

Service Culture

PBK's culture evolves from a well-defined set of core ideologies that maintain a company-wide precedence for: 1) first-class customer service; and 2) industry-leading, performance-based design solutions. In addition to the firm's tireless pursuit of design innovations through relentless, responsive service, PBK is a family-oriented workplace that prioritizes a team attitude, ethical business practices and a healthy life-work balance.
